Ask the Motor Medics®
Automotive Advice from The Under the Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,
Hello Motor Medics!
I have a 2014 Ford F-150 with 180k miles on her. Her name is Betsy. Lately It seems like at every corner I have to put another thousand bucks in her to keep her on the road. Tires, brakes, struts, and a new transmission all within a year. Overall, she has been a great truck and with new trucks costing what they do I'm way ahead of the game. Last week the truck started to make a noise in the front left area by the tire. I have figured out that when I turn the 4x4 on the noise goes away. The noise is not steady, it comes on slowly after the 4x4 is turned off and growls. Two shops have no clue.

Christopher in Redwood Falls, Minnesota.

Dear Christopher,
Whenever we hear from someone who names their vehicle, we know they are usually more in-tune to how they run than most. It's more like a family member than a form of transportation so let's get Betsy back to her old self. We see this issue a lot on Ford trucks in this year range. Most often it is caused by a leaking or broken vacuum line on one or both front wheel hubs which control the 4x4. It can also be caused by failing 4x4 solenoids or leaking hubs. Either way, that noise that changes with the 4x4 switch position almost always comes from that area. Start looking there.

Take care, the Motor Medics.

Dear Motor Medics,
I have an electrical gremlin in my 2022 GMC Yukon with 70k miles. It is out of warranty, so the dealership is no longer responsible for it and doesn't have a clue what's wrong with it. I've already spent over a thousand dollars with them and five hundred at another shop and neither one can find the issue. If I drive the truck every day it works fine, but if I let it sit for three days or longer it won't shift out of second gear. It shifts from first to second but then won't shift until I turn it off then back on and then it drives perfectly but only if I have let it warm up completely first. Then, if I drive it every day no issues ever.

Thank you, Ben in Sioux City, Iowa.

Dear Ben,
We are assuming that these shops spent quite a bit of time trying to duplicate and find this issue as that's a fairly good chunk of diagnostic money spent. Unfortunately, you are no better off. We have never heard of this, ever. We see hundreds of cars in our shop and have seen some that can be duplicated by operating them a certain way and that's what the shop will need do, know this info, and connect scan equipment to it after it sits those three days then drive it and see what is wrong. It's a lengthy process for a shop.

Take care, the Motor Medics.

BRANDON VALLEY Journal

BRANDON VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL

Valley Springs Mayor Carl Moss reflects on his 27 years of service to the community, first as a city commissioner and then as mayor.

Learn more about the plans for the transformation happening at the intersection of Splitrock and Redwood boulevards.

Tom A. Savage brings you a report from Monday evening's school board meeting. We'll also give you a rundown of the Park Advisory Board and Planning & Zoning Commission meetings in Brandon last week.

Earth Day was recognized on Saturday in Brandon when the Friends of the Big Sioux River led the charge of volunteers in cleaning up the river banks in McHardy Park.

The curtain goes up this week for Brandon Valley High School's production of Seussical the Musical. Editor Jill Meier stopped by a recent rehearsal to talk with some of the cast.

Plus, Isabella Savage took in BVHS's second prom in six days, the Best Buddies Prom.

As always, we've got recaps on Lynx sports, a BV senior's signing and a junior who's playing softball while managing her diabetes.

And there's a whole lot more. So, if you find yourself asking, "I wonder what's going on..." it's time to subscribe to the Brandon Valley Journal! Give us a call at (605) 582-9999 to subscribe today so you, too, can be in the know.

City of Brandon Residents FLUSHING NOTICE

The City of Brandon will be flushing water mains from Monday, May 6th through early June, 2024 or until flushing is complete.

Flushing hydrants is needed to ensure they are in proper working condition for fire protection and to remove any mineral deposits that may have accumulated in the water mains.

Residents should be advised that the change in water flow patterns resulting from hydrant flushing may stir up mineral deposits in home services.

During hydrant flushing, it is not uncommon for residents to periodically experience discolored water, pressure change, and/or an increased chlorine odor. Homeowners are advised to exercise care in their laundry operations and to check the water for clarity before use.

Motorists also are advised to stay clear of the streams of water coming from the hydrants.

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT

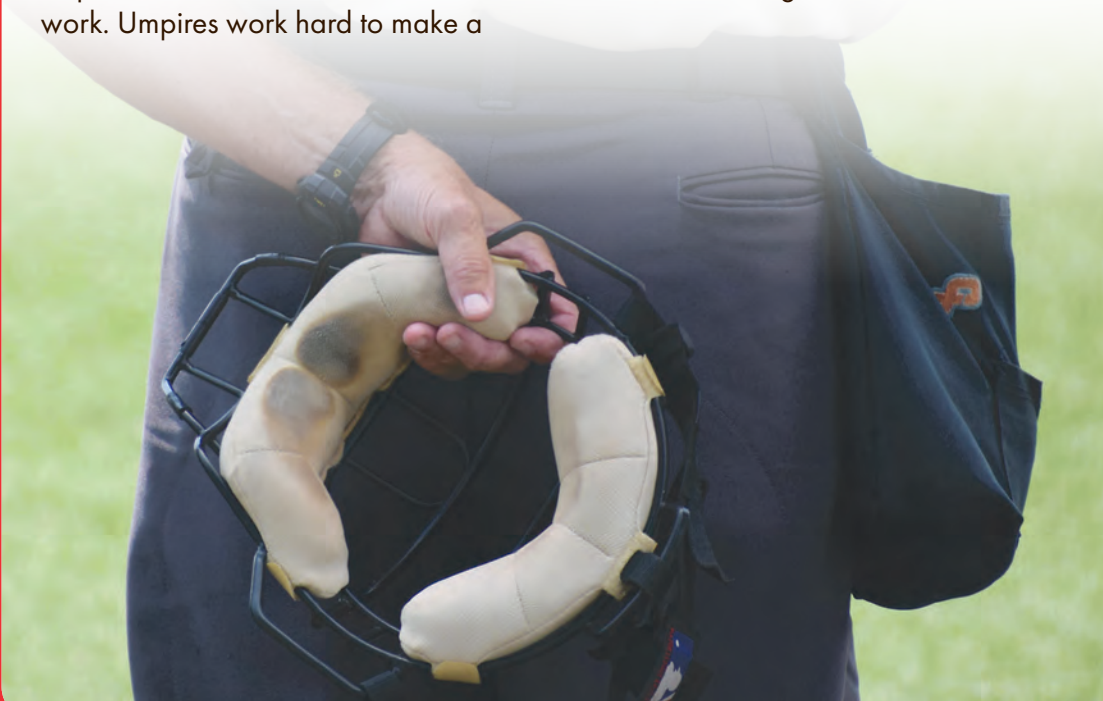

THANKING UMPIRES IS THE RIGHT CALL

Bill Thompson State Farm would like to thank the guys and gals in 'blue' this summer for making the calls behind the plate and on the field! Everytime you're in the stands at the ballparks in Brandon or Valley Springs, support the game officials and umpires who strive to create a positive experience for the players, coaches, and fans.

We would like to remind the fans to be kind to the umpires, treat them with respect, and thank them for their hard work. Umpires work hard to make a difference in the lives of the players by creating an atmosphere in which they can thrive.

As you head to the diamond this season, please remember that "America's favorite pastime" game is all about good sportsmanship, having fun and promoting community. Being a good neighbor, accepting the call, and respecting the umpires will teach your slugger sportsmanship they can carry into the next innings of their lives.
