Ask the Motor Medics®

Automotive Advice from The Under the Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,

I'm having trouble with my turn signals on my 2001 GMC Yukon. They will randomly work on the passenger side and they never shut off after making a left turn. My local shop thinks it's the turn signal switch but at several hundred dollars to replace I'm a bit reluctant as this is just a truck I use to pull the boat a half dozen times a year and I don't have the extra funds, they go into my boat. Is the turn signal switch something that can be done at home by me?

Brad in Davis Oklahoma.

Dear Brad,

If you have a turn signal switch that has failed it can be replaced at home by most average skilled home repair folks. They are available at most auto parts stores and are usually less than two hundred bucks. The switch controls the wipers, the turn signals and the cruise making it a multi-function switch so it has quite a harness of wires running down the column. If you want to tackle this item for the first time we suggest watching a you tube video about it first and then decide if you want to tackle it or spend the extra for a shop to install it. Different vehicles are set up in different ways with some requiring the removal of more or less parts to do this job so before you tackle one it's always good to know what you have.

Take care, the Motor Medics.

Dear Motor Medics,

My windows on my Dodge Durango are failing one at a time. The passenger rear failed first then the driver's side followed by the passenger front and now my driver's side is moving slow. This wasn't too bad until it got to the driver's side front. It's my drive thru window so it has to work guys. I also lost my A/C a few years ago so it would be nice to get some air flow. All of the windows made a grinding noise before they stopped and now the just grind when I try them. I can also push them up and down by hand. What's my next step?

Tony in Mason City Iowa.

Dear Tony,

Windows are usually a fairly easy fix. The symptom you are describing sounds like a window regulator but you will need to have that verified before you throw parts at it. We wouldn't want you to spend unneeded money. If it is a regulator that's a fairly easy fix requiring about an hour of time or so per window to repair. The regulator and motor are an assembly that can be purchased aftermarket or even picked up used for a reasonable price. Some folks choose to do them at home as well. Depending on where you purchase the parts they may even come with instructions if new but watching an online video first is always important. Make sure the tracks are free from dirt too.

Take care, the Motor Medics.

Coming in tomorrow's

BRANDON VALLEY Journal

Four consecutive nights of racing at Huset's Speedway – better known as the Highbank Nationals – is now in the books for 2025. Find out who took home the $250,000 prize from Saturday's finale.

And, on the topic of cars, Automania takes over Broadway Avenue this Saturday, and we've got the details of the day-long affair.

There's a new pastor in the pulpit at Beaver Valley Lutheran Church. This week, the Journal introduces you to Josh Schunk, who began his new role on June 1.

Curious what 1,000 pounds of recycled grocery bags will get you? The Brandon Lions Club is our local answer and we've got the story behind the recycling effort.

This week also includes reports from the meetings of Brandon's Park Advisory Board, the Planning & Zoning Commission, and Minnehaha County Commission.

An incoming Brandon Valley High School senior took big strides on a national stage over the weekend. Find out about his journey to the Nike Nationals and how the Lynx standout distance runner fared.

Plus, we'll have reports on the weekly action of the Legion Post 131 and the local amateur baseball teams.

And there's a whole lot more. If you find yourself asking, "I wonder what's going on ...," it's surely time to subscribe to the Brandon Valley Journal! Give us a call at (605) 582-9999 to subscribe today so you, too, can be in the know.

Job change?

Whether retiring or changing jobs, you'll want to know your retirement account options.

There are four potential options for your 401(k) when leaving an employer:

• Leave it in your former employer's 401(k) plan, if allowed by the plan.

• Move it to your new employer's 401(k) plan, if you've changed employers and your new employer plan allows for it.

• Roll the account over to an individual retirement account (IRA).

• Cash it out, which is subject to potential tax consequences.

We can talk through your financial goals and find the option that works best for you.
