Holly Boulevard joint repair project update

Join repair work along Holly Boulevard will continue yet this week. The project has extended out because the work is dictated by the heat. Some of the material used cannot be applied to the street when temperatures reach over 90 degrees F. Crews will be out doing saw cutting and removals. Please continue to be mindful of workers in the area and use an alternate route if possible. It is anticipated that work will be completed before school starts, and your patience is appreciated.

Current lawn watering restrictions

The city of Brandon is in stage 1 (green) of lawn watering restrictions. The even/odd schedules allow users with even-numbered addresses to water on even-number calendar dates; users with odd-numbered addresses are allowed to water on odd-numbered calendar dates. Water restriction stages and other updates are posted on the city website and Facebook pages.

July needs at the BAFP

July needs at the Brandon Area Food Pantry are canned carrots, Manwich, boxed Jello and pudding, egg noodles, pickle relish, chili beans, tooth paste, and dog and cat food. Pantry clients must be vaccinated and wear a mask to shop the Pantry. If not vaccinated, clients will receive items that have been pre-bagged by BAFP volunteers. To make appointments for either pickups or donations, call 582-7001. The BAFP is open from 4-6 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. BAFP executive director Linda Weber asks groups that conduct food drives to contact the Pantry prior to dropping off donations. Used eye glasses and hearing aids for the Brandon Lions Club may also be dropped off at the BAFP.

BLC summer lunch distribution
Free summer lunches for kids 18 and under are distributed every Wednesday through Aug. 10 from 11:15 a.m.-noon at Brandon Lutheran Church, 600 E. Holly Blvd. To learn more, call Brandon Lutheran Church at (605) 582-3401 or visit the church Facebook page.

Ask the Motor Medics®

Automotive Advice from The Under the Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,
During a recent episode of Under The Hood you were talking about intake gaskets and the failure of them. I have one of those cars that have had them fail twice in an eight-year period. The car is a 2004 Pontiac Grand Prix with a non-supercharged engine. What is it that causes them to fail? I heard you address fixing them, but not why they go out.

Sandra in Madison Wisconsin

Dear Sandra,
Many cars have intake gaskets fail after they have been in use for several years, but we tend to see more failures on the v6 non-supercharged General Motors engines in our shop. Now with that said it is important to note that I have friends down south where the climate shifts are not as extreme, and they rarely see this issue. Because we see a greater failure in our cold climate, we must think that it is the cold weather that causes the intake, heads, and the block, to contract and expand at different rates due to their different metal content and this causes extreme wear on the gaskets. This constant movement eventually breaks down the gasket and allows coolant and oil to start to move beyond the block. Combine this with coolant that is not maintained regularly, and the wear can be increased even more so. The best preventative is using the best set of gaskets you can find and regular cooling system service.

Take care, the Motor Medics

Dear Motor Medics,
How often should I have my brakes checked? I have a 2004 Honda Accord Sedan and as far as I can remember I have never had the brakes replaced. They seem to be working good as far as I can tell but I don't want them to suddenly fail. Do they do that? Suddenly fail without warning. I am one of those drivers that change my oil regularly at the quick lube but never do any preventative maintenance. I just wait for it to break and fix it then to save money. So far, my luck has been good, not even a tune up yet in 80,000 miles knock on wood.

Mark in Bennington Vermont

Dear Mark,
Brakes are nothing to play around with and they should be inspected regularly. In your owner's manual there is a severe service interval for checking these things and it should be followed. If you don't know the condition of your brakes, you need to find out so you can prevent that sudden failure or at the very least an expensive repair. There is much more to the system than just pads, there are hoses and other hardware, and regular maintenance is an important part of keeping repair costs down and safety up. Now aside from the brakes... No other maintenance, not even a tune up? I have two important words that could possibly cost you a bundle in the future. Timing Belt, check it out!
