BRANDON VALLEY Journal

There's a new king and queen at Brandon Valley High School, as coronation festivities kicked off a week of homecoming fun. The Journal was there to capture this memorable moment.

The Brandon City Council tackled a big agenda on Monday evening, and we'll have a report from City Hall for readers.

Career and technical education programs at BVHS continue to expand. This week, the first in a months' long series on CTE, is coming in tomorrow's Journal.

BV Band Parents are hosting the 23rd annual Big Sioux Review this Saturday. Learn more about the evening event that will feature 13 bands and the Marching Lynx, who will perform in exhibition.

The ribbon was cut at the Brandon Golf Course, signaling the start of rebuilding the "bulging" retaining wall on the north side of the clubhouse.

We also introduce you to a three-generation grave digger and to a unique beard competition for a good cause.

As always, we've got the recap on all of our Brandon Valley Lynx sports teams, plus features on former BV Lynx quarterback Thomas Scholten and junior Navarro Schunke.

And there's a whole lot more. So, if you find yourself asking, "I wonder what's going on ...?" It's time to subscribe to the Brandon Valley Journal! Give us a call at 605-582-9999 to subscribe today so you can be in the know.

Automotive Advice from The Under the Hood® Show

Dear Motor Medics,
I have a 2003 Dodge Grand Caravan and the air conditioning has failed. The vehicle also runs hotter than before. It seems like the fans come on when the gauge reaches almost into the red where before it only reached halfway. Both conditions occurred at the same time. Any help you can give would be much appreciated.

Mike in Sandusky Ohio

Dear Mike,
Overheating issues with a Grand Caravan can be caused by multiple issues. You're supplying us with some details helps narrow down the cause. I can tell you that if the engine is running hotter than normal the computer can shut down the A/C to protect it. The A/C system needs to run at the proper temperature, or the compressor will be damaged and that is why this happens. This vehicle has a common issue with the fan relay which is a solid-state unit. When the unit fails you can lose both fans or just the low speed fan which I think may be the case in your situation. With this fan not running the A/C will overheat and be shut down and the high-speed fan will only run when the temp gets to the higher range needed to activate it. That is why the gauge would read higher than normal. Have a shop check the fans and the fan control circuit and repair necessary problems in the circuit; after that they can properly check the A/C.

Take care, Russ

Dear Motor Medics,
I really enjoy your radio show which I listen to via iTunes podcast. My wife drives a 2012 Chevrolet Tahoe 4WD with a 5.3-liter Vortec engine and 117k miles. The A/C tensioner pulley on the passenger side front bottom of the engine has been banging on the transmission cooler lines at the bottom of the radiator when the A/C was on and the engine under load. I thought maybe the bearings may be bad so I replaced the assembly but that didn't fix it. The belt is not very old, so I don't suspect that. I recharged the A/C system with refrigerant and the belt still pulls the A/C tensioner down into the transmission cooler lines when under load but only when the A/C is on. Any advice you can give me is greatly appreciated.

Casey T in Huntsville Alabama

Dear Casey,
Start by checking the A/C compressor by using both high- and low-pressure gauges. I suspect you may find you have a blown A/C compressor head gasket which causes fluctuations in the low and high pressures resulting in changing loads making the tensioner act this way. I have seen this situation more than a dozen times in our shop. This is often caused by improper charging or a failed fan clutch which has caused A/C system overheating so check the fan clutch as well. When you charge the system adding refrigerant too fast can cause this as well so be careful.

Take care, Russ

CUSTOMER REVIEWS

“ I can't tell you how wonderful this company has been to work with in the last week. Our basement flooded last week and they came and have taken care of us quickly, efficiently and with more compassion than I have ever seen in a company. We would highly recommend and wouldn't go with anyone else. ”
